LONG YEARS FOR GUILTY MEN.

THE PENITENTIARY FOR HIGHWAY ROBBERS AND BURGLARS.

Judge Wofford Passes Sentence on a Batch of Jackson County Thieves -Mother of Walter Evans Tries to Save Him.

In the criminal court yesterday the following men who had been convicted by juries were formally sentenced by the

A. L. Moore, highway robbery, sixteen

Edward Temple, robbery, five years. Edward Fowler, seven months in jail. Joe Watson, grand larceny, two years. Walter Evans, burglary, two years. Harry Graves, burglary, five years, A. L. Moore is the demented young man who was led by William Bryden, an older and wiser man, to hold up three people in one night. Moore was friendless and penniless. Prosecutor Lowe pursued him relentlessly and succeeded in getting him sixteen years in the penitentlary. Bryden had influential political friends and money. Prosecutor Lowe permitted him to plead guilty and gave him six months in jail. Walter Evans is the young man whose Edward Temple was originally sentenced to ten years. His term was cut down to five years because his accomplice, George Carter, was given five years.

Edward Fowler is the young negro who was given five years for stealing a 50 cent clock. It was an alarm clock which "went off" as Temple was stealing it and led to his capture. He was under age and that is why his sentence was cut down to seven months in jail.

is why his sentence was cut down to seven months in jail.

Amanda J. Baird, the Christian Science healer who was recently fined in the criminal court for disobeying the city health rules, filed a motion for a new trial yesterday. It was overruled. She took an appeal to the supreme court.

The following cases, set for trial yesterday in the criminal court, were continued:

The following cases, set for trial yesterday in the criminal court, were continued: Frank Crowley, murder, May 2; Mary E. Eastridge, embezzlement, April 8: James Bush, resisting officer, May 2; Clarence Abrams, March 4; Charles Huoni, May 2; William Morarity and Charles Gleason, burglary, May 2; M. Woods and Charles Symington, burglary, May 2; David Kauffman, embezzlement, May 2; Emannuel Friendlich, April 11.

The cases against Charles H. Stewart, obtaining money under false pretenses; and William Mahoney and William Hannon, assault to rob, were dismissed by the state.

KENNEDY CASE PUT OVER.

Prosecutor Lowe Was Unprepared to Take Up the Charge of Train Robbery.

The cases of Jack Kennedy, James Flynn and J. C. Bowlin, charged with holding up and robbing a Chicago & Alton train the night of October 23, 1896, was called yes-terday for trial in the criminal court. It was continued by the state till May 2. This is the charge under which Kennedy is held in jail. Although he has been accused by the police with the murder of Miss Emma Schumacher, he has never been formally charged with it, and probably will not be until sufficient time has expired to convince the police that Jim Redmond, his alleged accomplice, is beyond capture.

The regular grand jury for the March term of the criminal court at Independence, will meet there next Monday, but the Kennedy case will not be laid before it. Kennedy case nedy's attorneys are getting affidavits to establish his alibi. With these they will go before the grand jury whenever the state lays the Kennedy case before it and demand that their side be heard, hoping by this evidence to defeat an indictment

When the robbed of his week's wages. When the women released O'Dowd they ran down the dark streets in different directions, but he at once became his own detective, shadowing one of the women until he thought he had a pretty fair description of her before he called on the police to make arrests. One woman proved to be the wrong one, at least her case was dismissed, but the other, Mary Smith, alias Fanny Rice, pleaded guilty yesterday after her trial was well along, and was sentenced to thirty days in jail by Justice Krueger.

KIT ROSE IS STUBBORN. Refuses to Give Up Another Man's Property Until Served With Replevin Papers.

Thomas Handy and his wife, Susan, the old colored couple who recently gave such important information regarding the susmortant information regarding the suspected train robber and murderer, John kennedy, swore out replevin papers yesteriary she would go to Jefferson City and besiege the governor as persistently as she has Judge Wofford.

Edward Temple was originally sentenced mound the marging after the Schumecher. day before Justice Krueger to recover prop-erty held by Kit Rose, the man in whose house Kennedy is alleged to have met Red-mond the morning after the Schumacher murder. Formerly Handy and his wife lived with Rose at 1638 Sidney avenue, but since they told what they knew about Kennedy they have been in charge of the officers, as they feared some yielence might officers, as they feared some violence might be done them. Their goods were left in the Rose house for the time, and when the owners tried to obtain possession Rose refused to turn them over till the writ wa

THEY WANT TO SEE THE BOOKS D. V. Rieger and R. D. Covington Refused Permission to Examine Missouri National Accounts.

Application was made to Judge Philips in the federal court yesterday, by two attor-neys for D. V. Rieger and R. D. Covington, neys for D. V. Rieger and R. D. Covington, of the defunct Missouri National bank, for permission to examine the books, records and papers of the bank that are now in the hands of T. B. Wallace, the receiver. Judge Philips declined to make the order, saying the matter was in the hands of the comptroller, and the orders on the receiver in such matters must come from him.

Two of the robbers, Frank Groutillo and Merchi Mandlecorn, were ar-Groutillo and Merchi Mandlecorn, were arrested, while the third one, who goes by the name of "Ghost." escaped. Both of the highwaymen and their victim claimed to know "Ghost." well, but none of them knew where he lived nor anything about him excepting his nom de plume, and altogether he seemed to be quite mysterious. Mandlecorn pleaded guilty before Justice Walls yesterday, and got five days: the big boy steod trial and got thirty. The "Ghost" is still at large.

Receivers of Stolen Goods Escape. Gus Alcorn and John Jeter were sen Gus Alcorn and John Jeter were sentenced to four months in the county jail by Justice Spitz yesterday for stealing a lot of tools from W. T. Snedden, a steam and gasfitter at 2405 Flora avenue. In addition they had to go with an officer to every junk shop and hiding place where they had disposed of the stolen goods, until every article was recovered. For some reason the junk shop dealers were not arrested for receiving stolen property.

HE SHOOK HANDS WITH BRYAN. But the Police Judge Did Not Regard It as Sufficient Excuse for Mar-

After shaking the hand of William Jen nings Bryan, John Martin, an old soldier, hastened to a saloon to drink to his own health. His success in his determination was evidenced yesterday morning when he stood before the judge's desk at police court to answer a charge of drunkenness.

"Mr. Martin, you are charged with being drunk," explained the judge.

"You honor, I just came to Kansas City Baturday from the home at Leavenworth," answered the old soldier. "On the train, sir, I shook the hand of William J. Bryan," and Martin looked appealingly at the judge.

"Tanked up as soon as you could, then?" responded the court.

"I reckon I did, your honor."

The court swallowed its sympathy and turned to the next case with the remark, "two dollars." he stood before the judge's desk at police

DIMMITT IS ARRAIGNED. Formal Charge of Train Robbery I

Charles E. Dimmitt, arrested a week ago at the Union depot by Detective San-derson and locked up on a charge of rosbing Express Messenger E. M. Hyden, on the Pittsburg & Gulf passenger train January 4, was yesterday taken before Justice Joyce on a state charge of train robbery. The complaint was signed by Sanderson. Dimmitt was perfectly cool and self-nossessed and waived the reading of the warrant. His attorney was not ready for the hearing and the case was continued until next Monday morning at 10 o'clock. Dimmitt was remanded to jail in default of $2,000 bond. The police are still looking for the "man with the gold tipped tooth," who, they claim, was Dimmitt's accomplice. The complaint was signed by Sanderson

EX-GOV. CRITTENDEN PRAISES HIS CONSERVATISM.

Declares in a Lecture on "Mexico" That the President Is Entitled to All Praise for Resisting the Clamor of Jingoes.

Ex-Governor T. T. Crittenden delivered a very interesting lecture yesterday morning at the Manual Training high school on the subject, "Sombrero and Cactus," detailing his experiences as consul general to the City of Mexico during Cleveland's second term.

Hardly any lecture these days would be complete without some reference to the Maine disaster. Mr. Crittenden in speak-ing of the possibility of war said that the Mexicans, though a Spanish race, were in sympathy with the Cubans.

"They could hardly be drawn into war however," said Mr. Crittenden, "for there are no circumstances probable at the pres ent time which could involve them in the trouble in any way. They have a very friendly feeling for the United States, and would naturally take the American side of the case.'

Mr. Crittenden paid a high compliment to President McKinley's course. President McKinley's course.

"Though I did not vote for Mr. McKinley," he said, "I have only words of praise for his statesman-like, conservative course in resisting the clamor of the jingoes. He is showing himself to be the right man for the occasion. He knows what war is and wants only peace, consistent at all times with the maintenance of the nation's honor. His is a leadership which it is safe to follow."

His is a leadership which it is safe to follow."

Mr. Crittenden talked entertainingly of the people of Mexico, of whom there are two classes, he said. The "greasers," so-called, represented the indolent and shiftless class, which lives contentedly from hand to mouth. The upper class, composed of Spanish blood, represents as high a type of civilization as to be found in any country on earth. Mr. Crittenden warmly eulogized President Diaz as an enterprising, wideswake, nineteenth century statesman who has done more for Mexico than any man in its history. His statesmanship has been appreciated by repeated re-elections to the presidency.

WYANDOTTE ABSENTEES MEET.

They Want Allotment of Lands on ar Equality With Other Members of Their Tribe.

A meeting of absentees of the Wyandotte tribe of Indians was held in Frank Betton's office in the Odd Fellows' building in Kansas City, Kas., yesterday afternoon in Kansas City, Kas., yesterday afternoon for the purpose of discussing plans by which they hope to get a treaty through congress providing for the purchase of certain lands in the Indian Territoy. The meeting was attended by Special Agent R. B. Armstrong, and it was decided to petition the secretary of the interior department at Washington asking that Mr. Armstrong be allowed to modify the old treaty and present it to congress. ment at Washington asking that Mr. Armstrong be allowed to modify the old treaty and present it to congress.

The Wyandotte absentees are members of the old Wyandotte tribe who were not provided for by the government at the time the remainder of the tribe were. There are about 200 of the absentees and they think that the government should give them at least 160 acres each. The land that they are desirous of getting is situated south of Fort sill. I. T. It is owned by two or three different tribes, but it is understood that the owners are willing to enter into a treaty with Uncle Sum for the land if the government will agree to keep all white men off of it. A treaty was drawn up and presented to congress last year providing for the purchase of the land for the Wyandotte absentees, but it met sudden death at the hands of the committee. The local members of the Wyandotte tribe are of the opinion that the government will soon provide for the absentees.

It is the first occasion in modern times that the sovereign of any European country has been laid low by so fearful a malady, from the danger of contagion of which royal personages should be especially secure by reason of the extrem medical care with which they are surrounded. Nor do they often come into contact with the poverty-stricken masses among whom, through lack of proper sanitation, such maladies are often epidemic. Indeed, there is but one princess now living, namely, Mathilda, of Saxony, niece of the king and daughter of the heir apparent, whose features are pitted by the sears of this disease, and, with this exception, it is necessary to go back to the last century, when the science of vaccination was in its infancy, to find any instances of the granding of the lord succumbing to small por.
